SDG 3.3 Collaborations and Health Services

3.3.1 Current collaborations with health institutions

Collaborations between universities and health institutions are crucial for advancing research and education in healthcare. ZUJ made many collaborations with local, national, or global health institutions to improve students' outcomes academically and in health and well-being.

A few examples of current collaborations in the field:

1. Research Partnerships: ZUJ partner with health institutions to conduct cutting-edge research.
2. Clinical Training Programs: Nursing and pharmacy schools often collaborate with healthcare institutions to provide clinical training for their students.
3. Public Health Initiatives: ZUJ and health institutions may work together on public health programs to address community health disparities.

SDG 3.3.5 Mental health support

- Mental health support in universities is of paramount importance to ensure the well-being of students and staff. ZUJ provides free mental health support for students, faculty, and staff. In addition to establishing a student psychological counselling center, ZUJ has also provided community psychological counselling. We integrate the professional resources of the school's Counseling and Consultation Department and establish referral and cooperative relations with community units (including hospitals, social units). Also apply preventive counselling measures, such as life education counselling, gender equality education counselling, career counselling, study counselling, counselling for foreign students, stress adjustment, peer counselling, mental health promotion by instructors, etc. Every year this department present a full report of number of cases and type of help provided to staff and students. Special forms for counselling and interventions are available. This department is run by a professor in Nursing Faculty specialized in mental health.

some common mental health support services provided by ZUJ:

- A. Counseling Services: ZUJ have counseling centers that offer individual and group counseling for students facing mental health challenges.
- B. Crisis Intervention: ZUJ provide immediate support for students in distress.
- C. Peer Support Programs: ZUJ have peer support programs where trained student peers provide support and guidance to their fellow students.
- D. Workshops and Educational Programs: ZUJ frequently organize mental health workshops and educational programs to raise awareness and provide coping strategies.

SDG 3.3.6 Smoke-free policy

- ZUJ already has a smoke-free policy. We hope to protect faculty, staff, and students from smoke hazards on campus, and provide a clean, smoke-free environment for faculty and students. Through the committee of anti-smoking awareness among school staff, students, and the community.
- ZUJ responds to the government's comprehensive smoking ban policy, maintains the physical health of the faculty and staff of the school, and creates a smoke-free, healthy, and fresh campus environment. We are a smoke-free campus.
- A smoke prevention and control work organization were established. Complete smoking cessation education is provided to help smokers successfully quit smoking and stay away from smoking hazards.
- Smoke-free policies in universities are becoming increasingly common to promote a healthier and safer environment for students, faculty, and staff. Here's some general information on these policies, along with citations to support your research:
- Campus-Wide Bans: ZUJ have implemented comprehensive smoke-free policies, prohibiting smoking on all university-owned properties.
- Designated Smoking Areas: ZUJ provide designated smoking areas away from main campus buildings.
- Tobacco Cessation Support: ZUJ often offer tobacco cessation programs to help students and staff quit smoking.
- Community Education: Smoke-free policies are often accompanied by educational campaigns to inform the university community about the policy and its health benefits.
