

Student Maryam Emad Ramzy Majama from the Department of Physiotherapy participated in the Creative Idea Competition 2, which I thought of in a nutshell as an electronic application for Al-Zaytoonah University of Jordan prepared by students studying in the faculties of artificial intelligence and technology and in which the creations of the outstanding and creative students in writing or those who are in the literary faculties in addition to medical advice and public awareness are formulated by students in the medical faculties.

The Purpose of the Idea:

Cooperation between students from several departments.

The purpose of encouraging students from several departments to be creative by publishing articles and various topics.

The purpose of spreading awareness among students on several topics.

To encourage reading in general.

Practical application of several subjects taught in different departments.

It is possible to provide writing workshops for those who wish, so it is possible to create a distinguished content maker.
